A project like this cannot be undertaken without help from a great number of people. A lot of friends have provided assistance and inspiration over the course of countless years (and with many, when I met them personally, I shared a lot more in common than the love for The Rolling Stones' music). So I would like to thank everybody involved, especially

Arthur Flueckiger (Berne, Switzerland) whose perpetual flow of letters, photocopies and e-mails was invaluable for this project;

Walter "Schubi" Schaeppi (Hirzel, Switzerland), underrated blues'n'rock expert, always ready, willing and able to raise the question every author dreads hearing - and be it only, for lack of a more pressing issue, in the 148th statement regarding the 1970 Howlin' Wolf session...

Nico Zentgraf (Berlin) and Werner Dwenger (Hamburg), acclaimed authors and editors obliging with almost any missing Rolling Stones issue or CD-R within 36 hours;

Jens Backlund (Finland, per e-mail); guitarist Eric Bazilian (USA, per e-mail); Philip Bajo (Vienna); Milan Ber (Ptuj, Slovenia); Olaf Boehme (Bautzen, Germany); Denis Bouakkaz (Bottens, Switzerland); Stephen Carter (Brighton, England/Perth, Australia); Malcolm Charles (Wallasey, England); Martin Friese (Einbeck, Germany); Oliver Dziggel (Bethesda, Madison, USA); Thomas Erni (Zurich); Gerry Garavaglia (London, Ontario, Canada); Rudi Gerlach (Cologne); Roland Hiss (Waiblingen, Germany); Christopher Hjort (Oslo); Dieter Hoffmann (Rodgau, Germany); Mario Cabello Jimenez (Madrid); James Karnbach (New York); Kurt Kleiner (Germany, per e-mail); Michael Lang (Zurich); Ruedi Lehmann (Jona, Switzerland); Dinu Logoz (Otelfingen, Switzerland); Jim McAlwane (UK, per e-mail); Chris Menicou (USA, per e-mail); guitarist Alan Merrill (New York); Misha Milojkovic (Palo Alto, USA); Hendrik Mulder (Ijsselstein, Netherlands); Sam Mumenthaler (Berne, Switzerland); Haruo Obata (Kawasaki, Japan); Manfred Papst (Nanikon, Switzerland); Andrew Percy (Glasgow); Jean-François Peret (Andresy, France); Richard Read (Brisbane, Australia); L. Nelio C. Rodrigues (Rio de Janeiro); Rodrigo Royan (Buenos Aires); Hitoshi Sato (Tokyo); Christoph Schwager (Zurich); Edi Schwager (Zurich); Rex H. Schenk (Kleinandelfingen, Switzerland), "Skippy" (Philadelphia); Nikki Sudden (Harbury, England/Berlin); producer Shel Talmy (Hollywood); guitarist Guthrie Thomas (Escondido, California); Grant A. Tryon (Orpington/Llandogo, England); for revising the manuscript of parts of it; for additions such as naming the local venue of the 1976 Yugoslavian show or putting inaccurate chart positions straight; for providing rare stuff such as transferring an odd South American 12" single onto CD-R or digging out the tape of the '67 Zurich show which I attended but could neither see nor hear (no change on the tape for that matter); for playing me ultra rare stuff from the mid-sixties on video; or for discovering that edited Mick Jagger single Deep Down Under.
